Notes to Financial Statements

1. Basis of presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared from the accounting records maintained by Japan Bank for International Cooperation ("JBIC") in accordance with the accounting principles and practices generally accepted in Japan, which are different in certain aspects from the application and disclosure requirements of International Financial Reporting Standards.

Consolidated financial statements are not prepared since JBIC has no subsidiaries.

The amounts indicated in millions of yen are rounded down by omitting figures less than one million. Totals may therefore not add up exactly because of this rounding.

Amounts in U.S. dollars are presented solely for the convenience of readers outside Japan. The rate of ¥112.19=$1.00, the foreign exchange rate on March 31, 2017, has been used in translations. The presentation of such amounts is not intended to imply that Japanese yen have been or could be readily converted, realized, or settled in U.S. dollars at the aforementioned rate or any other rate.

2. Significant accounting policies

(a) Securities

Held-to-maturity securities are carried at amortized cost based on the moving average method. Investments in affiliates are carried at cost based on the moving average method. Available-for-sale securities are in principle stated at fair value with changes in net unrealized gains or losses included directly in Net assets. However, available-for-sale securities whose fair value cannot be readily determined are carried at cost based on the moving average method.

Investments in partnerships for investment, which are regarded as securities under Article 2, Paragraph 2 of the Japanese Financial Instruments and Exchange Act (Act No. 25 of 1948), are recognized at an amount equivalent to JBIC's percentage share of the net assets of such partnerships, based upon the most recent financial statements available depending on the reporting date stipulated in the partnership agreement.

(b) Valuation method for derivative financial instruments

Derivative financial instruments are carried at fair value.

(c) Depreciation basis for fixed assets

(i) Property, plant and equipment (except for lease assets)

Tangible fixed assets are depreciated by the declining balance method over their useful economic lives except for buildings excluding installed facilities as well as installed facilities and structures acquired on or after April 1, 2016, which are depreciated by the straight-line method.

Depreciation is based on the following range of estimated useful lives:

Buildings: 3 years to 50 years

Other: 2 years to 35 years

(ii) Intangible assets (except for lease assets)

Depreciation of intangible fixed assets is computed by the straight-line method. Software used by JBIC is depreciated over its useful life (5 years or less) at JBIC.

(iii) Lease assets

Lease assets in "property, plant and equipment" or "intangible assets," under finance leases that do not involve transfer of ownership to the lessee are depreciated by the straight-line method over the lease term. Depreciation for lease assets is calculated with zero residual value being assigned to the asset.

(d) Method of amortization for deferred charges

Bond issuance cost is expensed as incurred.

(e) Foreign currency translation and revaluation method

JBIC maintains its accounting records in Japanese yen. Assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are mostly translated into Japanese yen at the market exchange rate prevailing at the fiscal year end.

(f) Allowance for loan losses

Allowance for loan losses is recognised in accordance with internally established standards.

The allowance for claims on debtors who are legally bankrupt ("Bankrupt borrowers") or substantially bankrupt ("Substantially bankrupt borrowers") is provided based on the outstanding balance after the write-offs described as below and the deductions of the amount expected to be collected through the disposal of collateral and the execution of guarantees. The allowance for claims on debtors who are not legally bankrupt but are likely to become bankrupt ("Potentially bankrupt borrowers") is provided based on an assessment of the overall solvency of the debtors after deducting the amount expected to be collected through the disposal of collateral and the execution of guarantees.

The allowance for claims on debtors other than Bankrupt borrowers, Substantially bankrupt borrowers and Potentially bankrupt borrowers is provided primarily based on the default rate, which is calculated based on the actual defaults during a certain period in the past. The allowance for possible losses on specific overseas loans is provided based on the expected loss amount taking into consideration the political and economic situations of these countries.

All claims are assessed initially by the operational departments and subsequently by risk evaluation departments based on internal rules for self-assessment of asset quality. The risk evaluation departments, which is independent from the operational departments, review these self-assessments, and the allowance is provided based on the results of the assessments.

With respect to claims with collateral or guarantees on debtors who are legally or substantially bankrupt ("Bankrupt borrowers and substantially bankrupt borrowers"), the residual booked amount of the claims after deduction of the amount which is deemed collectable through the disposal of collateral or the execution of guarantees is written off. There are no accumulated write-offs as of March 31, 2017. (There were no accumulated write-offs as of March 31, 2016.)

(g) Provision for bonuses

The "provision for bonuses" is calculated and provided for based on the estimated amounts of future payments attributable to the services that have been rendered by employees to the date of the balance sheets.

(h) Provision for directors' bonuses

The "provision for directors' bonuses" is calculated and provided for based on the estimated amounts of future payments attributable to the services that have been rendered by directors to the date of the balance sheets.

(i) Provision for retirement benefits

The "provision for retirement benefits" represents the future payment for pension and retirement benefits to employees, and is accrued based on the projected benefit obligations and the estimated pension plan assets at the fiscal year end.

(i) Method of attributing the projected benefits to periods of services

In calculating the projected benefit obligation, the estimated amount of retirement benefit payments is attributed to the period up to the end of the fiscal year based on the benefit formula.

(ii) Accounting for actuarial gains or losses and prior service costs

Actuarial gains or losses and prior service costs are expensed as they are incurred.

(j) Provision for directors' retirement benefits

The "provision for directors' retirement benefits," which provides for future retirement pension payment to directors, corporate auditors and executive officers, is recognized at the amount accrued at the end of the respective fiscal year.

(k) Accounting for hedges of interest rate risk

(i) Hedge accounting

The deferral method is applied to derivatives used for interest risk hedging purposes

(ii) Hedging instruments and hedged items

Hedging instruments: interest rate swaps

Hedged items: loans, borrowed money, bonds and notes

(iii) Hedging policy

JBIC enters into hedging transactions up to the amount of the underlying hedged assets and liabilities

(iv) Assessment of hedge effectiveness

JBIC assesses the effectiveness of designated hedges by measuring and comparing the change of fair value or cumulative change of cash flows of both hedging instruments and corresponding hedged items from the date of inception of the hedges to the assessment date.

(l) Accounting for hedges of foreign exchange risks

Hedging instruments used to hedge foreign exchange risks associated with foreign currency denominated monetary assets and liabilities are accounted for primarily using the deferral method, in accordance with the standard treatment of The Japanese Institute of Certified Public Accountants (JICPA) Industry Audit Committee Report No. 25 of July 29, 2002.

The effectiveness of the hedges described above is assessed by comparing the foreign currency position of the hedged loans and bills discounted and bonds payable denominated in foreign currencies with that of the hedging instruments, such as currency swaps and forward foreign exchange contracts which are used for hedging the foreign exchange risks of loans and bills discounted and bonds payable denominated in foreign currencies.

(m) Consumption and other taxes

Consumption taxes and local consumption taxes ("consumption taxes") are excluded from transaction amounts. Non-deductible consumption taxes related to property, plant and equipment are expensed as incurred.

(n) Scope of cash and cash equivalents in the statements of cash flows

Cash and cash equivalents as stated in the Statements of Cash Flows consists of cash on hand and Deposit with the Bank of Japan in "Cash and due from banks" in the balance sheets.

3. Changes in accounting policies

14. Financial instruments and related disclosure

(a) Status of financial instruments

(i) Initiatives for financial instruments

Based on the JBIC Act, JBIC is a policy-based financial institution wholly owned by the Japanese government, which has the purpose of contributing to the sound development of Japan and the international economy and society while supplementing the financial transactions implemented by private-sector financial institutions, by performing the financial function to promote the overseas development and securement of resources which are important for Japan; maintaining and improving the international competitiveness of Japanese industries; promoting the overseas business having the purpose of preserving the global environment, such as preventing global warming, as well as preventing disruptions to international financial order or taking appropriate measures with respect to damages caused by such disruption.

JBIC's principal operations consist of providing export loans, import loans, investment financing, financing for business development (including guarantees) and capital investment. To conduct these operations, funds are raised through borrowings from the fiscal investment and loans and the foreign exchange fund special account, and the issuing of bonds. An ALM (asset and liability management) function has been established in respect of our financial assets and liabilities that are subject to interest rate and currency fluctuations to assist in ensuring that such fluctuations do not have an adverse effect on our operations. In addition, derivative transactions are entered into for the purpose of mitigating risk inherent in foreign currency denominated transactions. Financial instruments that can be used for the management of surplus funds are limited to safe instruments such as Japanese government bonds, etc., as stipulated in the JBIC Act.

The budget required for governmental financial operations is decided upon by the Diet of Japan, and business plans and financial plans (borrowings from fiscal investment and loans, bonds, general accounting investment, and loans, etc.) are appended to the budget and submitted to the Diet of Japan.

(ii) Types of financial instruments and risks

The assets that JBIC holds mainly include loans to borrowers in Japan and overseas, and securities and liabilities mainly include borrowed money and bonds. The associated risks are described below.

① Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that JBIC will suffer losses if the financial conditions of the borrower deteriorate and the value of assets (including off-balance sheet assets) declines or loses.

The credit risks associated with JBIC include sovereign risk, country risk, corporate risk, and project risk. Because of the characteristic of supports for overseas economic transactions conducted by JBIC, much financing is provided to overseas governments, governmental institutions, and overseas corporations; the credit risk associated with the credit provided primarily consists of sovereign or country risk.

As a result, if the financial conditions of the individual borrower significantly deteriorate due to political and economic trends in the borrower's country or region, JBIC's performance and financial conditions can be adversely affected.

(Note) Sovereign risk refers to risk associated with credit extended to foreign governments, country risk refers to risk associated with the country in which the corporation or project is located (risk, in addition to corporate risk or project risk, associated with the country in which the corporation or the project is located) and corporate risk refers to the risk associated with credit to corporations and project risk refers to the risk that the cash flows generated from the project fail to generate the planned cash flows, in the case of project finance, where the repayment of the borrowing is primarily secured by the cash flow of the project to which credit is extended.

② Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the value of assets and liabilities (including off-balance sheet items) will fluctuate and losses will be incurred, or profits derived from assets and liabilities (including off-balance sheet items) will fluctuate and losses will be incurred due to changes in various market risk factors, such as interest rates and exchange rates.

The market risk borne by JBIC mainly consists of foreign exchange risk and interest rate risk, and JBIC may suffer losses from these risks due to fluctuations in the markets such as market turmoil. However, in principle, these risks are hedged through interest rate swaps, currency swaps, and forward foreign exchange contracts.

JBIC uses hedge accounting for interest rate hedges, where the hedging instrument is interest rate swaps to hedge the risk of changes in interest rates associated with loans, borrowed money and bonds. The effectiveness of the hedges is assessed by measuring and comparing the change in fair value or cumulative change in cash flows of both hedging instruments and corresponding hedged items from the date of inception of the hedges to the assessment date.

JBIC uses hedge accounting for foreign exchange hedges, where currency swaps and forward foreign exchange contracts are used to hedge items such as loans and bonds, etc. for foreign exchange risk. The effectiveness of the hedging with currency swaps and forward foreign exchange contracts is assessed by comparing the foreign currency position of the hedged financial assets and liabilities with that of the hedging instruments.

③ Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that losses will be incurred as a result of difficulties in obtaining the necessary funds due to a maturity mismatch between financing and funding or unexpected outflow of funds, or being forced to fund at an interest rate significantly higher than that under normal circumstances (funding risk). It is also the risk that losses will be incurred from being unable to conduct market transactions due to market turmoil or being forced to transact at far more unfavorable prices than those under normal circumstances (market liquidity risk).

Long-term and stable funds, such as fiscal loan funds, government-guaranteed bonds and FILP agency bonds, are secured to finance JBIC and deposits are not accepted, with the result that it considers liquidity risk to be limited. However, financing costs could increase due to market turmoil and unexpected events.

(iii) Risk management structure for financial instruments

The risk management structure of JBIC is described below.

① Credit risk management

The cornerstone of credit risk management at JBIC is the evaluation of an individual borrower's creditworthiness in advance of credit approval.

When a new credit application is processed, the relevant finance departments (sales promotion departments) and credit departments collect and analyze information on the borrower. JBIC's overseas representative offices also play a part in collecting information on foreign governments and companies. Credit appraisal takes place based on the information that has been gathered and analyzed with the different departments ensuring appropriate checks throughout the process, leading to the final decision by the management.

In providing credit to foreign governments and companies, JBIC takes maximum advantage of its unique position as a public financial institution. This includes exchanging views and information with governments and relevant authorities in the recipient countries, multilateral international institutions such as the International Monetary Fund (IMF) and the World Bank, other regional development banks such as export credit agencies, and private financial institutions in developed countries. Using all these channels to exchange views and information, JBIC evaluates sovereign and country risks (risk in addition to corporate risk associated with the country in which the corporation is located) based on the broad range of information collected on the borrowing governments, the government agencies and the political and economic conditions in their countries.

The relevant finance departments and credit departments conduct proper credit risk management based on the credit risk rating system for segmented risk categories and the asset self assessment system based on the Financial Inspection Manual of the Japanese Financial Services Agency. In addition, an Integrated Risk Management Committee is held regularly to report the status of credit management to the management. In addition, an Integrated Risk Management Committee is held regularly to report the status of credit management to the management. The credit management situation is also checked by an independent auditing department.

In addition, a claims protection mechanism exists based on an international framework unique to official creditors, that is not applied to private sector financial institutions, for public claims on foreign governments. This mechanism consists of international financial assistance upon international approval by the Paris Club, an international group focusing on debt, to allow the debtor country to continue debt repayment when the debtor country becomes temporarily unable to service its debt due to economic conditions. As part of this international financial assistance, the debtor country conducts an economic reform program agreed by the IMF in order to secure the ability to sustainably service its debt. In view of JBIC's position as a public financial institution, it will use the framework of the Paris Club to preserve its public claims on foreign governments.

In addition to the above credit risk management related to individual borrowers, JBIC quantifies credit risk with a view to evaluating the risk of the overall loan portfolio. To quantify credit risks, it is important to take into account the characteristics of JBIC's loan portfolio, which are not typically seen in other private financial institutions, namely that JBIC holds a significant proportion of long-term loans that entail sovereign and country risks. Also to be taken into account are mechanisms for securing assets under an international supporting framework, such as the Paris Club, which is unique to official creditors. JBIC uses a unique model to quantify the credit risk taking account of the above factors and measures amount of credit risk, which are utilized for credit risk management.

② Market risk management

JBIC manages foreign exchange risk and interest rate risk through its ALM. Market risk management protocols contain detailed stipulations in respect of risk management methods and procedures, and JBIC established an ALM Committee to assess and confirm the execution of ALM, and to discuss future responses to market risk. In addition, JBIC assesses and monitors the interest rate and terms of financial assets and liabilities in detail through a gap analysis and an interest rate sensitivity analysis as well as Value at Risk ("VaR"). The results are reported to the ALM Committee on a regular basis.

The basic policy for managing foreign exchange risk and interest rate risk at JBIC is described below.

1) Foreign exchange risk

Foreign currency-denominated loans conducted in JBIC involve risks related to exchange rate fluctuations. We have a consistent policy of managing this risk by fully hedging this risk exposure through the use of currency swaps and forward foreign exchange contracts.

2) Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk arises from exposure to market interest rate fluctuations for yen-denominated loan and foreign currency-denominated loan operations and the policy for managing interest rate risk is described below.

a. Yen-denominated loan operations

Yen-denominated loan operations are mainly managed by using fixed-rate loans. However, swaps are used to hedge interest rate risk for the portion of loans that are deemed to have high exposures to interest rate fluctuations and therefore interest rate risk is limited.

b. Foreign currency-denominated loan operations

For foreign currency-denominated loan operations, interest rate risk is hedged through the application of a consistent policy of using interest rate swaps and managing the funds with floating interest rates for both loans and related funding arrangements.

3) Status of market risk

JBIC only maintains a banking book and does not have financial instruments in a trading book. While in principle JBIC holds derivatives only for hedging purposes, stated previously, market risk is measured in order to assess potential risk exposures. The following represents the market risk exposure in the current fiscal year which is an aggregate of market risks (VaR) measured in respective accounts for operations defined in each item of Article 26-2 of the JBIC Act. JBIC measures market risk (VaR) by taking into account the degree of correlation between interest rate risk and foreign exchange risk.

a. Market risk (VaR)

March 31, 2017 (In billions of yen)		March 31, 2017 (In billions of U.S. dollars)
¥	152.1	$	1.4

b. Market risk (VaR) measurement model

Historical model (Confidence Interval: 99%, Holding period: 1 year, Observation period: 5 years)

c. Risk management using VaR

VaR is a market risk measure that assesses the maximum possible fluctuation of gains or losses in fair values that could be incurred after a certain period of time ("holding period") based on historical market movements of interest rates or exchange rates, etc., over a specific period in the past (or observation period) within a given probability (confidence interval), that is derived statistically by employing the theory of possibility distribution.

The measurement assumes historical market trends and the theory of probability distribution. Based on the possibility that future market trends could deviate from these assumptions, a back-test is performed to cross-check the model-measured VaR with actual profits or losses, in order to confirm the effectiveness of market risk measurements using VaR. In addition, a stress test, which goes beyond the probability distribution of historical market movements, is carried out in order to capture risks from various perspectives.

The following points should generally be noted in measuring VaR:

- VaR will differ depending on the choice of confidence interval, holding period or observation period;
- VaR indicates the maximum fluctuation of gains or losses in fair values at the time of measurement. In practice, the actual results at a point in the future may differ from the VaR calculation due to changes in the assumptions caused by market movements during the holding period; and
- VaR indicates the maximum value based on specific assumption. As such, when utilizing VaR as a risk management measure, it is imperative to keep in mind that VaR may underestimate the potential losses.

③ Liquidity risk management related to funding

Long-term and stable funds, such as fiscal loan funds, government-guaranteed bonds and FILP agency bonds, are used to finance these operations and deposits are not accepted.

Cash flows are assessed and proper measures, including establishing overdraft facility accounts with multiple private sector financial institutions, are taken to maintain daily cash flows for proper risk management.

④ Derivative transactions

For derivatives transactions, the internal checks and balances is established by assigning the execution of transactions, the assessment of hedge effectiveness and the management of administrative work to separate divisions. In addition, derivative transactions are carried out in accordance with the derivatives related protocol.

(iv) Supplementary explanation concerning fair value of financial instruments

Fair values of financial instruments are based on their market prices or, in cases where market prices are not available, on reasonably calculated prices. These prices have been calculated using certain assumptions, and may differ depending on the assumptions.

(b) Fair value of financial instruments

The carrying amount on the balance sheets as of March 31, 2016 and March 31, 2017 and the related fair value, and difference are as follows. Note that unlisted securities whose fair value is extremely difficult to be determined are not included in the following chart (refer to Note 2).

(Note 1) Valuation methodologies used for estimating fair values for financial instruments

Assets

(1) Cash and due from banks

For Due from banks that have no specific maturity or have a maturity under 3 months, the carrying amounts are used as fair value because the carrying amount approximates the fair value.

(2) Securities

The fair value of "Available-for-sale securities" is based upon the prices that are indicated from the financial institutions that JBIC transacts with.

(3) Loans and bills discounted

For loans with variable interest rates, since such loans reflect market interest rates, an amount calculated by the floating rate note method over the short term is used for fair value.

For loans with fixed interest, the total principal and interest is discounted by a risk free rate that incorporates the default ratio and coverage ratio to calculate fair value.

However for claims on bankrupt borrowers, substantially bankrupt borrowers, and potentially bankrupt borrowers, expected credit losses on such claims are calculated based on the expected collectable amount from the collateral or guarantee. Since fair value approximates the amount on the balance sheets at the fiscal year end after the deduction of the allowance for loan losses, this amount is used for fair value.

(4) Cash collateral paid for financial instruments

For cash collateral paid for financial instruments, the carrying amount is used as fair value because the carrying amount approximates the fair value.

Liabilities

(1) Borrowed money

Borrowed money with variable interest rates reflect short-term market interest rates and the credit conditions of JBIC have not changed significantly since the execution of borrowings. Therefore, the carrying amount is used as fair value because it is considered that the carrying amount approximates the fair value. For borrowed money with a fixed interest rate, in principle, fair value is calculated by discounting the principal and interest of the borrowings by the risk free rate (the standard Japanese government bond rate).

(2) Bonds payable

Market value is used as fair value of bonds.

(3) Cash collateral received for financial instruments

For cash collateral received for financial instruments, the carrying amount is used as fair value because the carrying amount approximates the fair value.

Derivative transactions

Derivative transactions are discussed under "Derivative transactions."

(Note 2) Financial instruments whose fair values are considered to be extremely difficult to be determined are as follows. They are not included in "Assets, (2) Securities."

17. Retirement benefits

(a) Overview of retirement benefit plans

JBIC abolished the welfare pension fund plan effective October 1, 2014 and has established a defined benefit corporate pension plan and a defined contribution pension plan.

JBIC has a defined benefit pension plan comprised of a corporate pension plan (transferred from a welfare pension fund plan effective October 1, 2014) and a lump-sum severance indemnity plan. Although JBIC's corporate pension plan is a multi-employer plan, the amount of the pension assets corresponding to its own contribution can be reasonably calculated based on the ratio of the projected benefit obligations, and the related notes are included in the following notes related to the defined benefit pension plan.

Under the corporate pension plan (funded type), pension or lump-sum payments are provided based on salary and service period. Under the lump-sum severance indemnity plan (unfunded type), lump-sum payments are provided as retirement benefits based on salary and service period. In addition, JBIC has established a defined contribution-type retirement benefit plan effective October 1, 2014.

Effective April 1, 2013, JBIC has been authorized by the Minister of Health, Labour and Welfare to be exempt from the obligations to pay future amounts in respect of the portion of the welfare pension fund it manages for the government. Subsequently on October 1, 2014, JBIC has been authorized to transfer to the government the past substitutional portion of the aforesaid fund. On May 24, 2016, Kouko Kigyō Nenkin Kikin (Kouko corporate pension fund) which JBIC participates in prepaid to the government ¥52,750 million ($470 million) of the transfer amount of the substitutional portion (i.e., minimum reserve).

18. Deferred tax accounting

JBIC does not apply deferred tax accounting since JBIC is a nontaxable entity defined in the Article 2, Paragraph 5 of the Corporation Tax Act (Act No. 34 of 1965).

19. Segment Information*(a) Segment summary

JBIC's operating segments are those for which discrete financial information is available, and whose operating results are regularly reviewed by JBIC's management.

JBIC is a policy-based financial institution wholly owned by the Japanese government, which has the purpose of contributing to the sound development of Japan and the international economy and society, while supplementing the financial transactions implemented by private-sector financial institutions by performing financial operations from four viewpoints: i.e. "promotion of the overseas development and securement of resources which are important for Japan"; "maintenance and improvement of the international competitiveness of Japanese industries"; "promotion of the overseas business having the purpose of preserving the global environment, such as preventing global warming"; and "prevention of disruptions to international financial order or implementation of appropriate measures with respect to damages caused by such disruption." To achieve these purposes, for business operations defined under the Act on Japan Bank for International Cooperation and other acts, JBIC has two reporting segments: "Ordinary Operations" account and "Special Operations" account. Accounting operations are separately carried out for respective accounts.

"Ordinary Operations" account covers the segments which are not included in "Special Operations" account.

"Special Operations" account includes the segments that offer financing services such as lending to overseas infrastructure business projects that generate a higher expected return in exchange for higher risk.

As JBIC has started to be engaged in the "Special Operations" from October 1, 2016, JBIC reviewed its operating segments. Accordingly, JBIC changed its operating segments from a single reportable segment comprising of loan, guarantee and equity participation operations to two reportable segments comprising of "Ordinary Operations" and "Special Operations."

The segment information for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016 is prepared based on the revised segments and provided in the subsequent paragraph (c) "Information about the amount of ordinary income, profit or loss, assets, liabilities and other items by reportable segment."

(b) Method of calculating ordinary income, profit or loss, assets, liabilities and other items by reportable segment

Accounting treatment applied to business segments reported is the same as that disclosed in "Significant accounting policies."
The amount of profit (or loss) of reportable segments is based on net income (or net loss).

Information on Derivatives Transactions

(1) Basic Policy for Derivatives Transactions

JBIC engages in derivatives transactions exclusively for the purpose of hedging exchange rate and interest rate risks.

(2) Transactions

Derivatives transactions of JBIC include interest rate and currency swaps and forward exchange contracts. The following table gives a summary of these transactions.

(3) Risks Involved in Derivatives Transactions

Derivatives transactions involve the following risks.

Counterparty Credit Risk

The potential loss from the failure of a counterparty to perform its obligations in accordance with the terms and conditions of the contract governing transactions due to bankruptcy or its deteriorating business performance.

Market Risk

The potential loss from changes in the market value of financial products due to fluctuations in interest rates or exchange rates in the market.

(4) Measures to Address These Risks

Counterparty Credit Risk

JBIC constantly monitors the fair value of a derivative in conducting transaction with each counterparty, credit risk exposure to it and its creditworthiness. Such information is then used to assess the eligibility of the counterparty.

Market Risk

JBIC utilizes derivatives transactions exclusively for the purpose of hedging. Therefore, the market risk on derivatives transactions and the risk on hedged (lending or funding) transactions, in principle, offset each other.

Information on the Quality of Assets

Although the Banking Act and Act on Emergency Measures for the Revitalization of the Financial Functions of 1998 (the "Financial Revitalization Act") do not apply to JBIC, JBIC has made a self-assessment of the quality of its assets since the fiscal year ended March 31, 2001, in accordance with the standards set forth in the Inspection Manual for Deposit-Taking Institutions of the Financial Services Agency of Japan. This was aimed at increasing disclosure on its asset quality and improving the internal management of credit risks.

One characteristic of JBIC's operations is that a considerable portion of its loans is official credit for the governments of developing countries. Thus, when an indebted country is temporarily unable to service debt due to economic difficulties, debt rescheduling will sometimes take place—based on an international agreement among the creditor countries in the Paris Club—in order to ensure sustainable debt service. A debtor country receiving such temporary support for overcoming the liquidity problem will implement economic restructuring programs agreed upon with the International Monetary Fund (IMF) to acquire sustainable debt service capacity.

The loans rescheduled under the agreement in the Paris Club have a high probability of repayment, because, unlike loans provided by private financial institutions, their nature as official credit provides an asset-securing mechanism under the above international framework. Nonetheless, to facilitate comparison with private financial institutions, JBIC, in principle, discloses the loans rescheduled in the Paris Club and whose debtor countries are categorized as "Needs Attention" in its self-assessment of asset quality, as loan assets required to be disclosed classifying them either as restructured loans (under the Banking Act) or substandard loans (under the Financial Revitalization Act).

ERNST & YOUNG SHINNIHON LLC audited JBIC's self-assessment regarding the quality of its assets, including the following risk-monitored loans, loans to be disclosed under the Financial Revitalization Act and reserves for possible loan losses, in accordance with the Practical Guidelines for Evaluation of Internal Control over Valuation of Assets and Audits for Write-Offs and Reserve for Possible Loan Losses of Banks and Similar Institutions (Report No. 4 of the Ad Hoc Committee for Audits of Banks, the Japanese Institute of Certified Public Accountants (JICPA)).

1. Risk-Monitored Loans

The following table shows the classification of risk-monitored loans based on the self-assessment of asset quality in accordance with the disclosure standard of risk-monitored loans applied to commercial financial institutions (under the Banking Act).

Each category of risk-monitored loans is defined as follows:

i. Bankrupt Loans

Among loans that are placed in non-accrual status (except the portion deducted as allowance for loan losses), when collection of either principal or interest becomes doubtful for the reason that principal or interest is past due for a considerable period of time or for other reasons, those loans for which there is filing of reorganization procedures under the Corporate Reorganization Act rehabilitation procedures under the Civil Rehabilitation Act, bankruptcy procedures under the Bankruptcy Act, special liquidation procedures under the Companies Act or other relevant laws, or there is suspension of transactions in promissory notes issued by the debtors in the clearing house.

ii. Non-accrual Loans

Loans that are placed in non-accrual status except those classified as "Bankrupt Loans" or those whose interest payments are deferred in order to expedite the debtors' business restructuring or support their business operations.

iii. Past Due Loans (3 months or more)

Loans whose principal or interest is past due 3 months or more from the date following the contractually scheduled payment date and not classified as "Bankrupt Loans" or "Non-accrual Loans".

iv. Restructured Loans

Loans whose terms and conditions are modified in favor of the debtors in order to expedite the debtors' business restructuring or support their business operations by, among others, reducing the stated interest rate, deferring interest payments or write-downs, and that are not classified as "Bankrupt Loans", "Non-accrual Loans" and "Past Due Loans (3 months or more)". ## 2. Loan Assets to Be Disclosed under the Financial Revitalization Act

The following table shows the classification of loans based on the self-assessment of asset quality in accordance with the disclosure standard of the Financial Revitalization Act.

i. Bankrupt and Quasi-bankrupt Assets

"Bankrupt and Quasi-bankrupt Assets" are loans and other credits to debtors who have begun proceedings under the Bankruptcy Act, the Corporate Reorganization Act, the Civil Rehabilitation Act and other similar laws of Japan and have financially failed. In the asset quality self-assessment, these loans are loans to debtors who are legally or substantially bankrupt.

ii. Doubtful Assets

"Doubtful Assets" are loans and other credits to debtors whose financial and operational conditions have deteriorated and who have a possibility that payment of principal and / or interest will not be made on a contractual basis. In the asset quality self-assessment, these loans are loans to the debtors who are likely to become bankrupt.

iii. Substandard Loans

"Substandard Loans" are loans to debtors who are categorized as "Needs Attention Debtor" in the asset quality self-assessment, and

- A. loans whose principal and / or interest is overdue 3 months or more from the date following the scheduled payment date but which are not categorized as "Bankrupt and Quasi-bankrupt Assets" and "Doubtful Assets" ("Past Due Loans (3 months or more)").
- B. restructured loans on which the Bank granted concessions to debtors in financial difficulties through amending terms and conditions of the loans to assist them to recover and eventually be able to pay to creditors, but which are not categorized as "Bankrupt and Quasi-bankrupt Assets", "Doubtful Assets" or "Overdue Loans (3 months or more)". (Note)

iv. Normal Assets

"Normal Assets" are loans to debtors with no particular problem in their financial conditions, categorized in the asset quality self-assessment either as "Loans to Normal Debtors" or "Loans to Needs Attention Debtors (excluding substandard loans)", but which are not categorized as "Bankrupt and Quasi-bankrupt Assets", "Doubtful Assets" and "Substandard Loans".

Note

In the event that a debtor country encounters temporary repayment difficulties in respect of external public debt (sovereign debt, trade insurance institutions and export credit institutions, etc.) due to the deteriorating balance of payments, meetings of creditor countries (the "Paris Club") will be held to mutually agree on debt relief measures (rescheduling), and implementing of temporary support for overcoming the liquidity problem (balance of payment support under an international cooperative framework). With this temporary liquidity support, debtors carry out IMF-agreed economic restructuring programs and continue to make debt repayments. The principal amount of loans for which JBIC has agreed to provide debt relief pursuant to the Paris Club agreements is ¥162,008 million as of the end of the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017.

Loans to debtors classified under the self-assessment as "Needs Attention" (but not "Past Due Loans (3 months or more)") that were rescheduled under the Paris Club as "Restructured loans". The amount of such loans, included in "Restructured loans" in the above table is ¥109,436 million.

Notes to the reconciliation of assets, liabilities, and equity as of March 31, 2017 and 2016, and the reconciliation of net profit for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2017 and 2016

A. Derivative financial instrument assets and liabilities

JBIC presents derivative financial instrument assets and derivative financial instrument liabilities as separate line items under IFRS, not as "Other assets" or "Other liabilities" under Japanese GAAP. While JBIC offsets derivative financial instrument assets and liabilities under Japanese GAAP, JBIC presents those assets and liabilities not qualifying for offsetting criteria under IFRS on a gross basis.

Under IFRS, JBIC determines fair values of derivative financial instrument assets and liabilities by considering the counterparty credit risk or own credit risk derived from observable market data.

JBIC does not apply hedge accounting under IFRS, which is applied under Japanese GAAP. At the date of transition, JBIC applied International Accounting Standard (IAS) 39 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement to the hedges to which hedge accounting was applied under Japanese GAAP. JBIC reclassified deferred gains or losses on hedges whose hedging relationships did not qualify for IAS 39 to retained earnings. For the hedges which did not meet the conditions for hedge accounting under IAS 39, JBIC discontinued hedge accounting by the types of hedges according to IFRS 1 First-time Adoption of International Financial Reporting Standards as follows:

i. Cash flow hedges

JBIC reclassifies deferred gains or losses on hedges from equity to profit or loss according to cash flows from the hedged transactions.

ii. Fair value hedges

JBIC reclassified deferred gains or losses on hedges under Japanese GAAP to retained earnings at the date of transition and adjusted carrying amounts of the hedged items at the lower of the following (a) and (b). JBIC amortizes the adjusted amounts of the hedged items using the effective interest method and recognizes them in profit or loss.

- a. cumulative changes in fair values of the hedged items attributable to designated hedged risks and not recognized under Japanese GAAP; and
- b. cumulative changes in fair values of the hedging instruments attributable to designated hedged risks and either not recognized or deferred in equity in the balance sheet under Japanese GAAP.

B. Securities

JBIC presents investments in associates as "Equity method investments" under IFRS, not as "Securities" under Japanese GAAP. For the differences in the measurement method between the accounting standards, see "F. Equity method investments."

Under Japanese GAAP, JBIC measures unlisted stocks in securities at cost. Under IFRS, JBIC classifies them as available-for-sale financial assets and measures principally at fair value. JBIC recognizes changes in fair values in "Other comprehensive income" and impairment losses as necessary.

Under Japanese GAAP, JBIC measures investments in partnerships included in securities at net amounts equivalent to its interest in their most recent financial statements available at the reporting date defined in the partnership agreement. Under IFRS, JBIC measures them at fair value in principle and recognizes changes in fair values in "Other comprehensive income" and impairment losses as necessary.

C. Loans and other receivables

JBIC includes accrued interest income on loans included in "Other assets" under Japanese GAAP and financial assets associated with financial guarantee contracts described in "E. Financial guarantee contracts" in "Loans and other receivables" under IFRS.

Under IFRS, JBIC measures loans and other receivables at fair value plus direct transaction costs at initial recognition and subsequently at amortized cost using the effective interest method. JBIC amortizes loan origination fees which are considered indispensable to the origination using the effective interest method. As described in "A. ii. Fair value hedges," JBIC adjusted the carrying amounts of loans for which hedge accounting was discontinued at the date of transition and amortizes them accordingly.

Under Japanese GAAP, JBIC recognizes general allowance as well as specific allowance for loan losses.

Adopting the incurred loss model under IFRS, JBIC recognizes impairment losses when it concludes that there is objective evidence of impairment as a result of one or more events that occurred after the initial recognition of the asset (a loss event), and that loss event (or events) has an impact on the estimated cash flows of the financial asset or a group of financial assets that can be reliably measured after its assessment at the reporting date. JBIC recognizes collectively evaluated impairment losses such as incurred but not reported losses by applying historical loss experience to a group of loans and other receivables with similar credit risk characteristics. The carrying amount of loans and other receivables is reduced by the amount of impairment losses through allowance for loan losses.

D. Bonds payable

Under Japanese GAAP, JBIC expenses bond issuance costs as incurred. Under IFRS, JBIC measures bonds payable initially at fair value less transaction costs directly attributable to bond issuance, such as fees paid to underwriters and discounts at issuance, and subsequently at amortized cost using the effective interest method. As described in "A. ii. Fair value hedges," JBIC adjusted the carrying amounts of bonds payable for which hedge accounting was discontinued at the date of transition and amortizes them accordingly.

E. Financial guarantee contracts

Under Japanese GAAP, JBIC records the same contractual amounts of financial guarantee obligations in both "Customers' liabilities for acceptances and guarantees" as assets and in "Acceptances and guarantees" as liabilities. Under IFRS, JBIC initially measures "Financial liabilities associated with financial guarantee contracts" at fair value as well as financial assets associated with financial guarantee contracts, and subsequently measures financial liabilities associated with financial guarantee contracts at the higher of (a) the amount initially recognized less cumulative amortization recognized and (b) the amount of estimated expenditure required to settle the guarantee obligation at the reporting date.

F. Equity method investments

JBIC's investments in associates and joint ventures are comprised mainly of investments in partnerships. Under Japanese GAAP, JBIC does not prepare consolidated financial statements and does not adopt the equity method for separate financial statements. JBIC measures those investments at net amounts equivalent to its interest in their most recent financial statements available at the reporting date defined in the partnership agreement.

Under IFRS, JBIC adopts the equity method to those investments. JBIC presents profits or losses of those investments, which are included in "Gain on investments in partnerships" under Japanese GAAP, as "Profits of equity method investment", and exchange differences on translation of foreign operations from adopting the equity method as "Other comprehensive income."

G. Liability for retirement benefits

Under Japanese GAAP, JBIC expenses actuarial gains or losses on defined benefit plans in profit or loss as incurred.

Under IFRS, JBIC recognizes directly remeasurement of defined benefit plans in "Other comprehensive income" as incurred and reclassifies immediately to retained earnings. JBIC remeasures retirement benefit obligations according to applicable IFRS and recognizes the remeasurement difference due to such as the period allocation method as "Operating expenses." JBIC includes a liability for retirement benefits in "Other liabilities."

Adjusted net profit in accordance with IFRS before IFRS adjustments for hedge accounting (Non-GAAP information calculated and presented on the basis of methodologies other than in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles)

JBIC uses derivatives exclusively to hedge interest rate risk and foreign exchange risk. Under Japanese GAAP, JBIC applies hedge accounting in order to not recognize net gains (losses) from the valuation of derivatives deferred by hedge accounting in net profit. As JBIC discloses its financial statements under IFRS for reference purposes and does not apply hedge accounting under IAS 39, "Net gains (losses) from the valuation of derivative financial instruments" and "Net gains from hedge accounting discontinued at the date of transition" are recognized in net profit in accordance with IFRS*.

As JBIC uses these derivatives for hedging purposes, these derivatives will not be canceled for realizing temporal net gains (losses) from valuation before their maturity dates. However, depending on market conditions, these net gains (losses) from valuation might have a substantial impact on net profit in accordance with IFRS. Therefore, "Adjusted net profit in accordance with IFRS before IFRS adjustments for hedge accounting" calculated by excluding temporal net gains (losses) from valuation from net profit in accordance with IFRS is useful for the users of JBIC's financial statements under IFRS to understand its financial performance and disclosed as a supplementary explanation for the reconciliation between Japanese GAAP and IFRS.

Adjusted net profit in accordance with IFRS before IFRS adjustments for hedge accounting is reconciled from net profit in accordance with IFRS by excluding the temporary gains or losses from the valuation of derivatives as follows:

(Billions of yen)

	March 31, 2017	March 31, 2016
Net profit in accordance with IFRS (A)	73.9	145.5
Net gains (losses) from the valuation of derivative financial instruments	(124.6)	41.6
Net gains from hedge accounting discontinued at the date of transition	2.8	10.8
Sub-total (B)	(121.8)	52.5

Net profit in accordance with IFRS, adjusted net profit in accordance with IFRS before IFRS adjustments for hedge accounting and net profit in accordance with Japanese GAAP for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2017 and 2016

* See "A. Derivative financial instrument assets and liabilities" for the difference between Japanese GAAP and IFRS regarding the accounting policies for derivative financial instruments.
